Hawaiian Airlines is looking to hire 240 more flight attendants.

Sunshine Topping, the airline's director of recruitment told KHON 2. Right now, the carrier employs 4,800 people and plans to add 500 new employees next year. "They're the No. 1 airlines out there. They are known for their on-time flights, their awesome quality customer service. I would just love to be a part of that," Wahiawa resident Kanani Chang-Viloria told the TV station.

Recent Message Traffic

As CAIAC civil aviation analysts research RFIs and monitor events of intelligence interest, they store relevant message traffic in the CAKB. These messages are then used to source products and to source database updates to Airlines, Aircraft, Organizations, Events and Persons of interest.
